R. S. CRANE, County Clerk.

A Court House Incident.

Last Saturday as a GLOBE-REPUBLICAN scribe was passing through the court house corridor, his attention was attracted by the clarion voice of Brother Voorhees issuing from the district clerk's office, complaining bitterly that his exchequer was not at the time supplied with $10. In order to help devise ways and means for supplying this demand for more money, which is the battle cry of the new party, the scribe drew near and discovered that the renowned editor was strenuously denying a statement made by one R. T. Flynn, of Topeka, who is travelling for the Geo. Crane printing house, and wanted to bet ten dollars as an evidence of good faith. Mr. Flynn reassured our impecunious contemporary by telling him he need not have ten dollars, but that he (Flynn) would pay his (Voorhees') way to and from Ashland and make him a present, not only of ten dollars but twenty-five dollars, if he could not prove that farmers of the alliance party had resolved to pay no farm hand more than one dollar per day, while republicans and democrats paid $1.25 per day. He went on to describe a scene he witnessed on the streets of Ashland last Thursday, where fifteen or twenty farm hands were holding an informal indignation meeting over the fact that they had been induced to come from their homes in the strip and elsewhere on the promise of high wages to work in the harvest fields, but on arrival found that the alliance farmers whose immense crops of wheat were yellow for harvest had resolved by preconcerted action not to pay any farm laborer more than one dollar per day for work in the harvest fields. They were very indignant, and called attention to republicans and democrats who were hiring men at $1.25 per day. One man remarked he was a democrat with only a span of broncho ponies, but would not indorse fusion with a party holding such attitude towards labor, but would sell his team and devote the proceeds to purchasing alliance votes for the republican ticket.

Mr. Flynn also spoke of meeting a farmer named Charles Foster, living in the country, whose postoffice address is Ashland. This man is a republican, but it so happens all his immediate neighbors are members of the people's party and feels that it is his duty to vote the same as they do. In former years those neighbors were republicans and democrats. This never interfered with neighborly courtesies, and they changed work with each other regardless of politics. This year Mr. Curtis had 110 acres of wheat to harvest. He had no money to hire hands, but proposed to those neighbors with whom he formerly exchanged work to do so again. Much to his surprise, not one of them would agree to his suggestion of reciprocity. He was finally advised to join the alliance and vote with the people's party, and informed in that event neighbors would again extend the fellowship as of old, otherwise not one would exchange work. The conditions were not according to his taste, and he declined. The neighbors held severely aloof, and having no way to borrow money to hire the needed help Mr. Curtis was obliged to go into his field and with only his wife's assistance harvest that heavy crop of wheat.

Another Consumptive Recovering.

Last Saturday we learned that a wealthy gentleman from Peoria, Ill., named H. H. Candee, was stopping in the city for the benefit of the pure air and healthy climate on his lungs. A GLOBE-REPUBLICAN scribe called at once at his hotel and found Mr. Candee to be a very agreeable gentleman, perfectly willing to give us all the information desired concerning the effect of this climate. Last March he suffered a severe attack of la grippe, which left his lungs partly congested and subject to hemorrhage. Nothing he did gave relief. Finally his physician recommended a trip to the South, which he at once made preparations to take. In the journey he was accompanied by a sister, also in delicate health, and a lady friend of the sister. Their stay in the South was cut short by Mr. Candee becoming alarmingly worse, so the party started north again immediately to try Colorado Springs, but having heard of Dodge City as especially favorable to pulmonary complaints, they concluded to stop off here and try what effect it would have. The day they got off the train the sister was so sick she could hardly stand up, and Mr. C. was not much better. They managed to get to a hotel and every evening since have taken drives out of the country. The delightful green landscape, varied by little lakes, fields of grain and young orchards has had a wonderful effect. Mr. Candee's health has been mending ever since. His appetite, which formerly was hardly worth mentioning, now calls for food with the regularity of a harvest hand, and he enjoys eating. He promptly admits this to be a wonderful country for lung diseases as well as wheat growing, and will doubtless carry hope and comfort to many others who suffer with what they consider incurable consumption.

Obituary.

Eliza J., daughter of John and Emelia Swisher, was born in Warren County, Indiana, July 14th, 1835.

She was converted when a child, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at "Crow's Grove," Indiana, since called "Swisher's Chapel," in honor of her grandfather, who was a pioneer in that country.

Her parents died before she was grown, leaving in her charge two younger brothers and a sister, she being the eldest of four children. The charge she faithfully kept, always looking after their welfare as though they were her own children.

On April 10th, 1856, she was married to James H. Crawford, at the residence of her uncle, William F. Wood, where she then lived. There were born unto them seven children—William N., John E., Charles H., (died in infancy), Abraham L., Jennie, Henry C., and Clara V.

In 1878 she, with her family, immigrated to Ford County, Kansas, where she has since resided.

She has been in feeble health for several years, but on Easter Sunday was taken ill with what, at the time, seemed a slight indisposition; but, in spite of all that loving hands and medical skill could do, continued to grow worse, until the morning of July 8th, at 7:20 o'clock, when, surrounded by husband and family, she quietly crossed the dark river, after bidding them a fond farewell, and entreating them to meet her in heaven.

The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, on Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. attended by a large concourse of friends, many being unable to get inside the church. The remains were interred in the Maple Grove cemetery.

She was a pious and devoted Christian. Among her leading characteristics was her love and devotion to the wants of her family. The greatest happiness she ever knew was in promoting the happiness of her loved ones.

While the family are overcome with grief at parting with their dearest loved one, they humbly bow to the Divine will and say with her, "He doeth all things well." She was loved by all who knew her and her loss is deeply mourned by all.

World's Fair Entertainment.

An entertainment of extraordinary interest and unusual variety is promised us at the opera house Friday night of this week, July 22nd. The programme will comprise selections of band and orchestral music, recitations, vocal and instrumental solos, etc. As good local talent as our city affords is to participate, among whom may be mentioned Miss Bessie Kellogg, Mr. Churchill, Mrs. Munsell, Mrs. Gilbert, Mr. Drury, Mrs. Crumline, Mr. Lauber, Miss Baird, Miss Henkel, Mr. Beeson, Jr., Miss Fanny Munsell, etc., etc. Miss Blanche Dienst, of Topeka, who for the last week has been the guest of Miss Kellogg, has promised to render a vocal selection. There will be about forty participants in the musical and general entertainment. Full programmes will be published later. This entertainment will be given under the auspices of the ladies of the art committee of the Columbian club, and the proceeds will be devoted to securing a fitting representation of Ford county at the Chicago World's Fair. It is an object that every citizen, old and young, will regard with personal interest. Come and be handsomely entertained by home talent and at the same time advance the interest of our city and county. Popular prices will prevail: Reserved seats, 35 cents; general admission, 25 cents; children under 12 years, 15 cents. Come one, come all, and fill the house.

World Wide Prominence.

At the International Meteorological Congress held at Munich, Germany, it was decided to select certain cities of the world to publish meteorological data from in the shape of maps, bulletins, etc., so as to follow the path of storms, high and low barometer and waves of heat and cold around the globe. Dodge City has been selected as one of a very limited number of places in the U. S. of America from which all meteorological data kept by the weather bureau will be published in the international maps and bulletins. The observer is now busy preparing the data.

Wright Doings.

—Frank Davison spent Sunday with his family.

—Mr. Smith's two brothers from Arkansas are visiting him at present.

—Wheat is about all harvested in this locality and is an excellent crop.

—Levi Sell has been improving the suburbs of Wright by building a new chicken house.

—Mrs. Sheldoa moved to Dodge City on Saturday.

—J. H. Treblecock has just finished harvesting one hundred acres of wheat, some of which will go twenty-five bushels to the acre, and commences threshing next week from the shock. Mr. Treblecock has good crops of all kinds. Good for him.
